The Daily Courant.

Friday, December 7. 1705.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated December 11.

Perpignan, November 22.

TWO Tartans that were ſent with Ammunition and Proviſions to Roſes, were attack'd by ſome Tartans mann'd by the Malecontents; yet one of them got into the Bay of Roſes, but the other was forc'd to take ſhelter under the Cannon of one of our Forts. King Charles III. is encamp'd about Lerida with part of his Army: The Earl of Peterborough is about Gironne; And the Enemy are making great Magazines of Proviſions at Figuieres, in Order 'tis ſuppos'd to beſiege Roſes.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated December 10.

From Prince Eugene of Savoy's Camp near Montechiaro, November 27. The 21ſt of this Month we had Advice from Carpenedole, that the Enemy's Army commanded by the Duke of Vendome was arriv'd at Caſal-Moro; we had alſo Intelligence, that one of their Detachments had poſſeſs'd themſelves of the Caſtle of Calepio belonging to the Venetians. The 22d both thoſe Accounts were confirm'd; with this particular, that the Venetians refuſing to ſurrender voluntarily the Caſtle of Calepio, the French were oblig'd to take it by Force, in doing which they loſt ſome Men. We had Information the ſame Day from ſeveral Priſoners and Deſerters, that the Enemy's Army with all their Artillery were advanc'd to the Chieſa, with deſign to paſs that River at Azola: Upon which Prince Eugene gave out Orders for his Army, which was canton'd in the Places mention'd in our former, to hold themſelves ready to march. The 23d we had Intelligence that the Enemy's Army had paſs'd the Chieſa, and was marching in 2 Columns, the Foot along the High-road of Azola towards Carpenedole, and the Horſe on the Right of that Road. Upon this, Prince Eugene gave out freſh Orders for all our Troops that were in a Condition to do Service, to be in a Readyneſs to march, and that our heavy Baggage ſhould be left in the Places where we had canton'd, with the diſmounted Troopers and Dragoons and ſome other Troops. The 24th our Army march'd towards Carpenedole by Montechiaro, Prince Eugene being at their Head. We had Advice at the ſame time that the Enemy continued their march towards Medole. One of our Parties of 35 Horſe meeting 50 French Horſe, attack'd them boldly, kill'd ſeveral of them on the ſpot among them the commanding Officer, took 8 others Priſoners, and 11 Horſes; the reſt fled. In the Evening after all our Troops had joyn'd in one Body, our Right Wing was extended near to Carpenedole, and our Left towards Caſtiglione delle Stivere. The 25th ſeveral Deſerters came over to us, and reported that the Day before the Enemy's Army advanc'd to Medole, that their Right Wing was extended within 2 Miles of Caſtiglione delle Stivere, and that moſt of their Troops were canton'd in Caſtel-Guifre and in the neighbouring Towns and Villages. Major Eben who was ſent out for Intelligence, re-join'd us with 150 Horſe and 17 Priſoners. The 26th we ſaw the Enemy's Army filing towards the Mountains; and becauſe we could not tell what might be their Deſign, Prince Eugene caus'd all our Horſe to mount, and ſent Order to the Troops we had in Carpenedole and other Places to joyn us with all Expedition. In the Evening, we had Intelligence they had encamp'd on the Mountains, their Left Wing being extended near to Caſtiglione, and their Right to the Village of Zenta; but that only their Horſe was encamp'd, all their Infantry being canton'd in ſeveral Places, to ſhelter them from the Weather. The following Night General Staremberg arriv'd in our Army from Piemont. To Day (the 27th) we decamp'd at Day-break, and marching in 2 Columns to a great Heath within leſs than a Mile of the Enemy, we halted there 2 Hours in hopes the Enemy would come down from the Hills to fight us; but they kept cloſe in their Advantagious Poſts; whereupon we judg'd it proper to continue our March towards Lonato, and are now encamp'd with our Left within 2 Leagues of that Place and our Right towards Montechiaro, where Prince Eugene has his Head Quarters. By which Situation we preſerve a free Communication with the Chieſa and the Lake of Garda.

From the Leyden Gazette, dated Dec. 3.

Vienna, Nov. 21. The 19th we receiv'd a Confirmation by Letters from Hungary, that the Malecontents abandon'd the Blockade of Great Waradin on the approach of General Herbeville with the Imperial Army; and thereupon that Place was ſtor'd with Proviſions brought by a great Convoy from Debrezin; and its Garriſon reinforc'd with ſome Troops; that the 4th of this Month General Herbeville decamp'd from Dioſek to purſue his March to Tranſilvania by the way of Somblia; that he reckon'd to reach Clavſenburg the 18th or 19th Inſtant; and that having ſent out for Intelligence a Party of Ratzians under one of their principal Officers nam'd Teckeli, they met 1000 Malecontents, whom they attack'd with ſuch Succeſs that they kill'd 500 of them on the Place, made 40 Priſoners, put the reſt to Flight, and took 6 Standards, 330 Horſes, and about 1000 Head of large Cattel.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Dec. 12.

Vienna, Nov. 28. The 22d Inſtant Baron Sirmay arriv'd here from Hungary, with ſome Propoſals from the Malecontents, whereupon the Dutch Miniſters went from hence the 25th, as did Meſ. Viza and Occoluciani yeſterday, for Tirnau; and will be follow'd by Mr. Stepney and Count Wratisſlaw as ſoon as a Suſpenſion of Arms ſhall be concluded. The Grant of the Principality of Mindelheim in Swabia to the Duke of Marlborough, will entitle him and his Heirs Male to a Seat and Voice in the College of Princes in the Diet of the Empire: It ſeems Mindelheim has formerly been inherited by Women, and 'tis talk'd that in Favour of the Earl of Sunderland a Clauſe will be inſerted in the Grant, to make this Fief inheritable by the Female Iſſue of the Duke of Marlborough. Copies are handed about here of an Aſſociation berween Prince Ragotski as elected Prince of Tranſilvania and Chief or Regent of the Confederated Hungarians on one ſide, and of the Eſtates of the Kingdom of Hungary on the other; importing that they will abide by the ſaid Aſſociation till they they have recover'd all their Ancient Liberties and Rights, Military, Eccleſiaſtical, and Civil: Prince Ragotski, and the Prelates, Noblemen, and Deputies of the Cities of Hungary, ſwore to, ſign'd, and ſeal'd this Aſſociation at Zechin, the 15th of October 1705. A Report is ſpread that there has been an Action between the Imperialiſts and the Malecontents near Samblio on the Frontier of Tranſilvania, in which the latter were worſted; but we do not hear there is any certain Advice of it.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated December 10.

Liſle, December 5. The 3d Inſtant in the Night a Fire broke out in our Governour's Houſe, in which the Elector of Bavaria was lodg'd. His Electoral Highneſs had only time to ſlip on his Night Gown and run out of the Houſe to ſave his Life. Before the Fire was extinguiſh'd a great deal of rich Furniture belonging to the Marſhal de Bouflers our Governour was conſum'd. His Electoral Highneſs is preparing to go from hence to Bruſſels, where the Elector of Cologne his Brother is at preſent. 'Tis talk'd he has a Deſign to attack ſome of the Enemy's Garriſons on the Frontier in the hard froſty Weather. The Number of Men the King of France deſigns to ſend to Catalonia is 20000; Some of which are to be tranſported from Italy, but the greateſt part will march through Rouſſillon.

Axel, December 6. Six French and ſix Spaniſh Battallions, are order'd to march from the Spaniſh Netherlands to Spain. Two of them, that are in Ghent, are preparing to ſet forward with all Expedition. 'Tis reported in Ghent, that King Charles III. has laid Siege to Saragoſſa.
